

Disaster Preparedness

Sponsor: Civil Defense Agency

Hawai‘i Island has seen numerous disasters – wildfires, volcanic eruptions, and hurricanes. Anticipating and confronting the unexpected is critical. By preparing, you gain knowledge and develop a proactive mindset, showcasing resilience in a crisis.

Here are some ideas to inspire your media production:

- Essential components for an emergency kit, ensuring ‘ohana and pets are self-sufficient for at least 72 crucial hours
- Crafting family emergency plans
- Staying informed to stay safe by tuning in to reliable sources
- How to find and subscribe to emergency alerts and notifications, empowering individuals with real-time updates
- Taking care of neighbors before, during, and after a disaster

Hawai‘i County Civil Defense Agency Website

