

Digital Equity

Sponsor: Hawaiian Telcom

Broadband connectivity serves as the backbone for access to education, healthcare, and economic opportunities. Digital equity, ensuring everyone has fair and equal access to these digital resources, is essential in bridging the digital divide. It promotes social inclusion, empowers communities, and enables individuals to fully participate in the digital age.

Here are some ideas to inspire your media production:

- Challenges faced by those with limited access and the importance of digital equity to access information, opportunities, and services.
- Stories of those who have benefitted from improved broadband connectivity, emphasizing the positive impacts.
- Showcase how digital equity empowers individuals, breaking down barriers and fostering inclusivity in various aspects of life.
- Digital zine featuring art and stories that celebrate digital equity
- How broadband connectivity bridges the generation gap, connecting different age groups and fostering understanding

Hawaiian Telcom Website

